

Figure 4.14 An example of single-linkage clustering with $k = 3$ clusters. The clusters are formed by adding edges between points in order of increasing distance.